

Kidderminster Footwear is the main trading arm of a family-run business founded by a Northampton shoe craftsman in 1865. He started trading as a shoemaker with just one small premises in Kidderminster. Over the years the business has evolved through the generations to become one of the largest footwear importers and distributors in the United Kingdom and Europe.

Kidderminster's ranges are fast moving and constantly updated with new lines coming through weekly. The Company has a huge stockholding of mens, womens and childrens styles from basics through to high fashion. They are commercial and can deliver quickly worldwide.

Our container shipments business from the Far East direct to major customers in the UK and overseas has grown rapidly. The "right" styles carefully selected and sourced at extremely competitive prices are providing consistently high margins with very few mark-downs for our customers. Our website is designed to give the current in-stock position and forward delivery forecast for our ranges. It is continuously updated with new styles constantly being added to an already exciting collection.

For existing customers, there will be no change apart from the additional help now available from information on-line.

For new customers we offer quick pre-payment delivery service with no minimum quantity providing the order is in size ranged carton lots and subject to the point of sale in relation to existing customers. Additionally, the vast amount of experience held here at Kidderminster is available to everyone interested or already engaged in the footwear trade. We are here to help without any obligation whatsoever.
